

Policy to control of raw materials and production process does not cause contamination of GMO.

By the Food and Drug Administration. Ministry of Public Health announcement of control and prevent of raw material from genetically modified organism techniques (GMO, Genetically Modified Organism). Although the research indicated that it is safe or not, the company is announcing the following protection policy.

1. All employees of the Company involved in the import of raw materials into the factory, those are research and development, purchasing and quality Control departments must be aware and accountable of how to control of raw materials and production process to avoid contamination of GMO.

2. Research and development staffs must clearly document the procurement and quality control of GMO contamination raw materials, which must be documented by the approved GMO-free from government units or certified bodies. And also shall be full fill in the basic information about the raw materials in the Product Information Form. the company

3. If raw materials are at risk, those are peanut and corn, Research and development staffs must clarify the details of food labels must be provided in accordance with the Notification of the Ministry of Industry No. 251, BE 2545

4. The Purchasing Department staffs shall provide detailed information to the suppliers for acknowledgment and implementation. suspension immediately in any violation.

5. Confirmation by the supplier's audit by supplier audit team.