

Policy on Good Agricultural Practice

Currently, the world market focus to the security system of agricultural products. And also including consumer hygiene, safety and Environmental Management as well. CPRAM Co., Ltd., as a food manufacturer that exports products to domestic and foreign markets see the importance to control the safety of food products from raw materials and raise standards of processed food in Thailand.

To comply with the current quality assurance standards and current society also for security throughout the supply chain (the raw material to products). Supplier delivered to CPRAM Co., Ltd. must be able to verify the origin of raw material according to the announcement of the Department of Agriculture about the good agricultural practices for plants for raw materials for domestic production. Raw material suppliers for export production must meet Global GAP standards for delivery of all raw materials to CPRAM Co., Ltd.

By announcing a policy on good agricultural practices. Effective on fresh vegetable suppliers for export and domestic, from August 17, 2017 onwards. All original raw material suppliers must be from the certified sources related to Good Agricultural Practices or higher standards, shall comply with the above policy by December 30, 2017 onwards.